1 About these Qualifications

This booklet contains OCR's GCSE specification in Drama for teaching from September 2009.

This specification is concerned with the drawing together of all of those skills that can describe drama activity. By following the course candidates will gather knowledge and understanding of drama and theatre and related skills, and of the social, historical and cultural influences that inform the way drama is devised and structured.

The specification emphasises and assesses drama process as well as the final product. This means content is studied and used for the prime purpose of creating practical drama with critical or literary theory and an understanding of text focusing on the same purpose.

Candidates will use content and knowledge of drama processes and forms to interpret text, and to devise their own drama. Evaluation is part of the process of generating material, defining performance and coming to an understanding of issues and content studied leading to candidates reviewing their practice, developing new insights, and creating new practical drama.

Candidates will use their own cultural references and be introduced to a variety of texts, written and visual, devised and published. In doing this, candidates will be making sense of the world they live in, and will develop understanding of the varying social, historical and cultural contexts in which drama operates; they will be expected to evaluate their own performance and that of others in this wider context. They will acquire the ability to develop drama outcomes using a variety of appropriate terminology, utilizing the knowledge and understanding developed through the course of study.

Through candidates' understanding of the processes involved in drama they will improve their performance skills, by creating work themselves, and preparing existing text(s) for performance. They will develop: qualities of imagination; the ability to create drama; ways of communicating intention; skills in working with others to a common purpose; and the beginnings of artistic evaluation.

OCR has taken great care in the preparation of this specification and assessment material to avoid bias of any kind.

1.1 GCSE (Full Course)

From September 2009 the GCSE is made up of three mandatory units.

Units A581 and A582 are internally assessed via controlled assessment and Unit A583 is externally assessed.

1.2 Qualification Title and Levels

This qualification is shown on a certificate as:

- OCR GCSE in Drama.

This qualification is approved by the regulatory authorities (QCA, DCELLS and CCEA) as part of the National Qualifications Framework.

Candidates who gain Grades D to G will have achieved an award at Foundation Level 1 (Level 1 of the National Qualifications Framework).

Candidates who gain Grades A* to C will have achieved an award at Intermediate Level 2 (Level 2 of the National Qualifications Framework).

1.3 Aims and Learning Outcomes

The aims of this specification are to enable the candidate to:

- Engage actively in the process of dramatic study in order to develop as effective and independent candidates and as critical and reflective thinkers with enquiring minds.
- Work imaginatively and creatively in collaborative contexts, generating, developing and communicating ideas.
- Reflect on and evaluate their own work and the work of others.
- Develop and demonstrate competence in a range of practical, creative and performance skills.
- Develop a basis for their future roles as active citizens in employment and society in general as well as for the possible further study of drama.
- Consider and explore the impact of social, historical and cultural influences on drama texts and activities.

1.4 Prior Learning/Attainment

Candidates entering this course should have achieved a general educational level equivalent to National Curriculum Level 3, or an Entry 3 at Entry Level within the National Qualifications Framework.

2 Summary of Content

2.1 GCSE Units

Underpinning content

The aims and learning outcomes will be achieved by candidates through activities designed to explore, understand and experience the subject of Drama using the following content framework.

Six Areas of Study (section 3.1) will be explored through the context of Deviser, Designer, Director and Performer.

In the Controlled Tests for Units A581 and A582, candidates will work in at least two of these contexts. In Unit A583, the examined unit, candidates will be assessed through one of the following four options: Performer (devised), Performer (text extract), Deviser or Designer. A specific brief is given for each option.

Unit A581: From Page to Stage

The focus of this unit will be on how a published text is animated and brought to life for an audience. The emphasis is on working to the intention of the original playwright and not on devising.

Candidates will work on a selected text through workshops and undertake a controlled test in which they perform an extract from the text and complete a working record. The text is selected by the centre.

This unit is internally assessed by the teacher and moderated by postal moderation. This unit is available in January and June.

Unit A582: Drama in the Making

The focus of this unit will be to explore and develop candidates' understanding of the devising process using stimulus material. They will explore and gain an understanding of the key principles and concepts of devising a piece of drama. The stimulus is selected by the centre.

Candidates will explore a chosen stimulus item through workshops and undertake a controlled assessment in which they will deliver a workshop presentation and complete a working record.

This unit is internally assessed by the teacher and moderated by postal moderation. This unit is available in January and June.

The focus of this unit is to explore and realise one of four briefs set by OCR. The briefs will use either the text extract and/or stimulus provided as a starting point to develop skills through a series of workshops exploring the functions of Deviser, Designer, Director and Performer. At the end of the unit candidates will undertake a practical examination, comprising of a preparation/rehearsal period and a practical outcome. Candidates will be assessed on their performance/presentation and their planning, and working record.

The practical examination is externally marked by a visiting examiner.

This unit is available in June series only.

Approaches to delivering this Specification

The structure of this specification allows Centres flexibility in organising the teaching and delivery of the assessed units. The specification may be taught in a unitised way allowing opportunities for re-sitting of units; it may also be taught and assessed in a more linear fashion. There are a variety of ways to do this and below are two suggestions:

Note: these are not prescribed ways to approach this specification. The specification is designed to give teachers as much flexibility as possible in tailoring the teaching to their individual situation. Consequently other combinations are possible and acceptable.

One way of approaching the specification might be:

- 1 Autumn term of the first year teaching the fundamentals of the course, providing experiences in the 6 areas of study and having the opportunity to function as Deviser, Designer, Director and Performer. This provides the knowledge and understanding that underpins each unit.
- 2 Spring/Summer term of first year teach your first Unit (A581 or A582) and do the controlled assessment at the end of the first year of course, submitting it for moderation in the June series of the first year.
- 3 Autumn term of final year, teach your second Unit (A581 or A582) and do the controlled assessment. Submit for moderation in the June series of the final year.
- 4 Spring/Summer term of the final year teach Unit A583 and undertake the practical examination in the June series of that year.

Another way to approach the specification might be:

- 1 One/two terms teaching the fundamentals of the course, providing experiences in the six areas of study and having the opportunity to function as Deviser, Designer, Director and Performer. This provides the knowledge and understanding that underpins each unit.
- 2 The following terms continue to develop the knowledge and skills by teaching elements of Units A581 and A582 working with both script and stimulus.
- 3 Spring term of the final year undertake controlled assessments for Units A581 and A582 ready to submit in the June series of the final year.
- 4 Summer term of the final year teach Unit A583 and undertake the practical examination in the June series of that year.

3 Content

3.1 Underpinning content

The aims and learning outcomes will be achieved by candidates through activities designed to explore, understand and experience the subject of Drama using the following content framework.

Six Areas of Study will be explored through the contexts of Deviser, Designer, Director and Performer.

In the controlled assessments for Units A581 and A582, candidates have to work in at least two of these contexts.

In Unit A583, the examined unit, candidates will be assessed in one of the following four options: Performer (devised), Performer (text extract), Deviser or Designer. A specific brief is given for each option. The Areas of Study are:

- 1 Character and Context
- 2 Structure and Plot
- 3 Audience and Defining Performance Space
- 4 Improvisation
- 5 Genre, Performance Style and Convention
- 6 The Semiotics of Drama and Theatre

The Areas of Study

Area of Study 1	Character and Context
Minimum Requirement	Both must be studied
Definition	Character: a role created by an actor or writer either for performance, contained in a script or developed through improvisation. Character is communicated to an audience physically and vocally by the actor. This physical representation is informed by the characters' motivation, background and sometimes function within the play. For example characters may be defined by their status, class, beliefs, personality, history, job, and attitudes or they may be the storyteller. Context: the situation or circumstances in which a piece of drama is set or devised, including historical, cultural or social influences. Context might be explored using such questions as: 'What, Who, Why, Where, When?'
Examples	Contexts include the content and influences on a piece of drama, whether devised or scripted; the intention of the playwright in the devising of a play; what must be considered by director, actor and designer in preparing to perform the play.

	Character is influenced by the historical development of theatre e.g. the use of stock characters in such genres as melodrama, pantomime, Commedia dell'Arte, or by practitioners like Stanislavski with his system of character building and Brecht with his use of representational types.

Area of Study 2	Structure and Plot
Minimum Requirement	More than one approach must be applied to the creation of drama during the course and at least one published play must be explored.
Definition	Structure; the whole constructed unit; the way a piece of drama is put together; the connections between episodes, scenes or acts; a framework. Plot: the outline of a literary work; the action of the play; the way a character responds to the situation and other characters, who in turn respond.
Examples	In combination, Structure and Plot refer to the following: play form, the 'well-made' play, the unities of time, place and action from Greek theatre, epic theatre, mixed media presentations, conventions of plot and time, sketches and scripts, devices for closure e.g. epilogues, the use of narration, prologues and a chorus. Candidates should be introduced to some of the models that exist for dramatic planning e.g: Aristotelian Model (exposition, rising action, climax, denouement); Peripetia (twist in the plot); Obligatory Moments (the moments the audience anticipate and feel cheated if they do not get them); Stream of Consciousness (there is no structure except to follow the flow), Montage Vignettes and Collage, Varying chronological order, Allegory and Satire, Irony and Metaphor.

Area of Study 3	Audience and Performance Space
Minimum Requirement	More than one type of audience should be considered in the study of script, and the preparation and devising of drama.  More than one venue type or performance space should be considered for the performance of dramas.
Definition	Those for whom the performance is intended and the space to be used for performing the drama.
Examples	Consideration of both the audience and the performance space should relate to the intention of the playwright, and the issues that the drama raises. Theatre in Education and documentary, Melodrama and political theatre all have their own intended audience and influences. The work of Stanislavski, Brecht, Grotowski, Ayckbourn and Godber, for example, could be considered in relation to their view of audience.  Performance spaces that can be considered include the Greek amphitheatre, studio, arena, in-the-round, thrust, promenade, proscenium staging. The use of buildings – the church in early English drama, guild plays, purpose built across historical periods such as theatres; museums, old country houses, factories and mills; street theatre; pub theatre; outdoor theatre.

Area of Study 4	Improvisation
Minimum Requirements	Candidates must experience spontaneous and polished improvisation and see how it is used to devise, as a performance mode and as a means to improve scripted performance.
Definition	Unscripted drama which relies on the performer's ability to extemporise; to create spontaneously or within set parameters.
Examples	Used as part of the devising process, or as part of work-shop activity. A feature of medieval Mystery Plays; lazzi in Commedia dell' Arte; some fringe

	theatre. Theatres that specialise in improvised drama. Using a variety of exercises to develop confidence in improvisation. Giving work dramatic integrity so it matches intention. Experience working on own and with others.
--	---

Area of Study 5	Genre, Performance Style and Convention
Minimum Requirements	Candidates must study and understand more than one genre, more than one performance style, and be conversant with devising and theatrical conventions listed in the examples, well enough to select and employ them in their devised work, and relate them to their understanding of and working with script.
Definition	Genre: category of drama identifiable by common elements, usually characterised by the nature of its subject matter or its form of performance. May be linked to an historical period, or to a particular company or group of practitioners. Implicit agreement of understanding between Deviser, Performer, and Audience on the set of conventions and codes to be used. Performance Style and Convention are best understood through the examples below.
Examples	Performance Style: Naturalistic; Non-Naturalistic; Abstract; Representational; Didactic; Masked. Sometimes a genre will be used to describe a performance style, such as describing an actor delivering as speech in a melodramatic way. Devising Conventions: Ritual Ceremony; Mimed Activities; Still Image; Narration; Interviews; Meetings; Re-enactments; Sound Tracking; Thought Tracking; Reportage; Giving Witness; Collective Drawing; Telephone Overheard Conversations; Simulations; Mantle of the Expert; Diaries; Letters; Defining Space; Costuming Games; Role on the Wall; Analogy; Journals; Messages; Folk Forms; Noises Off; Making Maps; Caption Making; Role Reversal; Hot Seating; Prepared Roles; Interrogations; Marking the Moment. Theatrical Conventions: Ghost(s); Stock Characters; Dramatic Irony; Allegorical Narrative; Prologue; Epilogue; Chorus. Genre: Kitchen Sink; Melodrama; Documentary; Theatre-in-Education; Agitprop; Historical Period such as Greek or restoration; Commedia dell'Arte; Political theatre; styles linked with a specific playwright such as Godber, Churchill, or Shakespeare.

Area of Study 6	The Semiotics of Drama and Theatre
Minimum Requirements	An understanding of the actor as sign; Proxemics; symbols in set, costume and properties.
Definition	How meaning is created and communicated through systems of encodable and decodable signs and symbols of drama. The way we signal meaning to an audience.
Examples	The actor as sign. The way dialogue is structured to signal content. Verse and prose. The function of a character. Proxemics. Constructing stage 'pictures' – setting, costume, properties, lighting - in relation to the facial and physical work of the actor. Stage directions and their relationship with set and bringing an intended image alive. Links with structure and with character, context and plot. How elements in lighting, sound and mixed media can contribute to the atmosphere generated and the intention of the outcome. Note: candidates should become aware that these signs and symbols may be decoded in different ways by different cultures e.g. in one culture white may signal purity, in another something quite different.

Approaches to delivering the Areas of Study

Deviser

This refers to the creation of drama, whether improvised or in the form of a script. It covers work created by the candidate and work created by others, including published plays.

Designer

Set, costume, lighting, sound, make up, properties, furniture and mixed media will all be considered as elements considered by a designer. Often in the ongoing work it will not be practical to fully realise all design ideas. Candidates opting to focus on the Designer function for any assessment unit will take selected ideas to some form of realisation (actually created, a mock up, scale model or a detailed design sheet) allowing them to assess the potential of their designs.

Director

The process of guiding the ideas stimulated by the devised or text work, structuring it in a way that will maximise the impact upon an audience is the function of the Director, a function which candidates will themselves apply.

Candidates should aim to work with clear intent, to ensure that the work progresses to an effective conclusion in a performance. Many of the performances may be work in progress, but the influence of the Director is evident.

Performer

As Performers, candidates should communicate through role, character and symbol, and will develop understanding and expertise in using performance styles and conventions such as physical theatre and direct address to the audience to enable an effective presentation to an audience.

---

Outline

The focus of this unit will be on how a published text is animated and brought to life for an audience. The emphasis is on working to the intention of the original playwright, not devising. Candidates will need to:

- establish the playwright's intention
- establish key features of the genre and related performance style
- identify the historical and cultural context and establish how that might impact on any performance
- identify the design elements indicated in the text and adopt or adapt or add to these in a way that supports the interpretation decided upon
- develop and practice the necessary performance skills needed to deliver an effective performance of their interpretation of the chosen text extract
- rehearse the developed piece for final performance.

The work in this unit will develop candidates' knowledge, understanding and application of the six Areas of Study (see section 3.1).

The functions of Designer, Director and Performer are applied to the practical context of bringing the text extract to life on the stage (see section 3.1).

This unit involves the application of all of the Areas of Study although Improvisation will have less emphasis than in Unit A582 and possibly Unit A583.

Candidates will develop and demonstrate their ability to:

- apply performance and production skills
- acquire reflective and evaluative skills in response to dramatic text
- work collaboratively and creatively to achieve shared dramatic intentions.

In this unit the development of candidates' knowledge, understanding and skills will be achieved through a series of workshops using the selected text(s). The number of workshops undertaken is at the discretion of the teacher in the time allowable.

Candidates will be assessed on by controlled assessment which will stem from the workshops. They will be assessed on their performance and their working record.

This unit is marked by the teacher, out of 60 marks, and moderated by post.

This whole unit represents approximately 20-25 hours of study. This can be scheduled within normal teaching time.

The unit content is the study of a substantial published full-length play (minimum running time of 40 minutes). Other script extracts may be incorporated into the unit to illustrate contrasting performance styles, genres or different cultural or historic contexts.

Centres are free to choose their own script(s). The selected script will form the basis of the controlled assessment. If the genre, period, any suggested performance style of the text is changed, justification must be given in candidate's working record. The text used must be changed at least every second year by the Centre.

The candidates' working process on the text should cover the five stages listed below. Candidates will assimilate information and take part in a number of practical workshops as they work through the process needed to create a performance. This provides the means to develop and improve skills in preparation for the controlled assessment.

The five stages are:

- (a) Preparation
- (b) Exploration
- (c) Rehearsal
- (d) Performance
- (e) Review

---

The Preparation and Exploration stages will be teacher led and will not be under direct supervision. These two stages will give background information on the text and develop candidate knowledge and skills, in the roles of Performer, Director and Designer.

The Rehearsal, Performance and Review stages will constitute the controlled assessment and will be completed under formal supervision.

- Examine the cultural and historical context for the play.
- Identify the genre, performance style and audience.
- Investigate the intention of the playwright.

Approx 2-4 hours

(b) Exploration – using the script as written.

- Take part as a Performer and Director in workshops on the script.
- Consider the Design implications of the script and within the time constraints of the unit, apply elements of design when and where possible.

Approx 8 - 10 hours

Prior to this next stage, which constitutes the start of the controlled assessment, candidates working in groups will complete section one of their working record (see section 4.1). Note this is not part of the controlled test and is not assessed, but enables the group to establish their starting point for the moderator. As it is not assessed it can be produced collectively.

(c) Rehearsal - start of the controlled assessment

- Direct section(s) of the script applying ideas generated from previous workshops or creating a new interpretation.
- Prepare for performance as a Performer.
- Complete second section of working record under controlled conditions.

Controlled conditions 8 hours

(d) Performance – outcome marked by the teacher:

Present the rehearsed section(s) of script as a Performer.

Approx 10 minutes

Approx 2 hours to see all groups in a teaching set

(e) Review:

Reflection on performance(s), the third section of the working record.

Up to 1 hour controlled conditions

The Controlled Assessment

Candidates will be assessed and be marked on two aspects:

- Working record drawing upon their preparation and exploration and how it applies to the rehearsal process and performance, including candidates' original insights.
- Performance of the selected extract(s) of the text.

See section 4.1 for further details on the controlled assessment

---

3.3 Unit A582: Drama in the Making

Outline

The focus of this unit will be for candidates to explore and develop understanding of the devising process using stimulus material. They will explore and gain an understanding of the key concepts/principles of devising a piece of drama.

Candidates will continue to develop their knowledge, understanding and application of the six Areas of Study (see section 3.1) with improvisation (Area of Study 4) taking a central role in the devising process. In particular candidates will explore:

- how plays are structured and plotted (Area of Study 2)
- how genre and performance style impact on devising (Area of Study 5)
- how character and context can be developed through improvisation (Areas of Study 1 and 4)
- the selection of target audience and staging the play to communicate ideas effectively (Areas of Study 3 and 6).

Improvisation (Area of Study 4) should take a central role in the devising process.

This unit will enable candidates to develop and demonstrate their ability to:

- use improvisation skills in a range of drama contexts
- apply performance and production skills
- select, synthesize and use ideas and skills to create drama
- acquire reflective and evaluative skills in response to dramatic text
- work collaboratively and creatively to achieve shared dramatic intentions.

In this unit candidates will explore the devising process through a series of workshops using starting points of a stimulus, issue or theme. At the end of the unit candidates will be assessed on their workshop presentation and their working record.

The unit is marked out of 60 by the teacher and moderated by post.

The unit represents approximately 25-30 hours of study. This can be scheduled within normal teaching time.

To explore the key aspects of the devising process and gain confidence in applying these, candidates will work with stimulus, issue or theme.

Centres can choose a stimulus, issue or theme and must provide candidates with background social, historical and cultural information.

The candidates working process on the stimulus should cover the five stages listed below. This will involve candidates assimilating information and taking part in a number of practical workshops as they work through the process needed to devise a drama. This provides the means to hone skills in preparation for the controlled assessment.

The five stages are:

- (a) Preparation
- (b) Exploration
- (c) Rehearsal
- (d) Workshop Presentation
- (e) Review.

The Preparation and Exploration stages will be teacher-led and will not be under direct supervision. These two stages will prepare the work on the stimulus, issue or theme and develop candidate knowledge and skills, in the roles of Deviser, Director and Performer.

The Rehearsal, Workshop Presentation and Review stages will constitute the controlled assessment and will be completed under formal supervision.

(a) Preparation

- Examine the cultural and historical context for the stimulus, issue or theme.
- Select what is to be the key intention of the drama.
- Identify suitable genre(s) and performance style(s) and audience.

Approx 2-3 hours

(b) Exploration

- Use improvisation to devise the drama.
- Take part as a Performer and Director in workshops on the evolving drama.
- Identify and/or use the semiotics of performance to contribute to or enhance the devising process.

Approx 10-12 hours

Prior to this next stage, which constitutes the start of the controlled assessment, candidates will complete section one of their working record (see section 4.1).

(c) Rehearsal - start of the controlled assessment

- Consider and develop material for the workshop presentation.
- Select what is to be included in the workshop presentation and rehearse/prepare.
- Complete section two of the working record individually.

Controlled conditions 10 hours

(d) Workshop Presentation – outcome marked by the teacher:

Give the workshop presentation of selected material including at least one section of rehearsed improvisation (see section 4.1). Maximum 10 minutes.

Controlled conditions approx 2-3 hours to see all groups in a teaching set

(e) Review:

Working record review of Workshop Presentation, including a review of one other group.

Up to 1 hour controlled conditions

The Controlled Assessment

Candidates will be assessed and be marked on two aspects:

Working record drawing upon their preparation, exploration, rehearsal and presentation.

Workshop Presentation.

See section 4.1 for further details on the controlled assessment.

---

3.4 Unit A583: From Concept to Creation

Outline

The focus of this unit is to further develop candidate skills through a series of workshops which explore the contexts of Deviser, Designer, Director and Performer in more detail in order for candidates to realise one of four given briefs.

The four briefs for this unit will continue to develop candidates' ability to:

- use the Areas of Study to create and develop a performed role
- respond as a performer to the text extract/stimulus item
- generate design ideas for one aspect of the text extract/stimulus item
- devise a workable drama in response to the text extract/stimulus item
- apply performance and production skills
- select, synthesise and use ideas and skills to create drama
- select, synthesise and use ideas and skills to create design solutions
- develop reflective and evaluation skills in response to a text extract/stimulus item
- work collaboratively and creatively to achieve shared dramatic intentions.

The emphasis will vary according to the brief undertaken by the candidate.

At the end of the unit candidates will undertake a practical examination, comprising of a preparation/rehearsal period and a practical outcome.

Candidates will be assessed on their performance/presentation and their working record.

The practical examination is marked out of 80 and is externally marked by a visiting examiner.

Content, working process and skills

Candidates will explore the following roles, through a series of workshops conducted with their teacher. As deviser and performer, assessing the potential of source material provided by the teacher through the creative potential for design by shaping ideas and applying directing skills.

As Devisers, candidates will extend their knowledge and understanding of the importance of character, context, structure, plot, audience, performance space, improvisation, genre, performance style, conventions and semiotics to the effective communication of their ideas in a workable drama.

As Performers, candidates will extend and their knowledge and understanding of how the development of character within a given context, the use of performance style, improvisation, conventions, semiotics and performance space support the creation of a role which effectively communicates their ideas to an audience.

As Designers, candidates will extend their knowledge and understanding of how set design, properties, lighting, sound and costume are used to support and enhance the communication of character, context, structure, plot, performance space, genre, performance style, conventions and semiotics to an audience.

As Directors, candidates will extend their knowledge and understanding of how a director's interpretation/ideas for the cultural and historical context of the play/drama, the structuring of the performance and their general creative input, creates an overall context for the actors and the production team to work to.

Within the workshop setting candidates will give and receive feedback on the effectiveness and viability of their ideas. Elements which might be included in the workshops are:

- polished improvised scene(s) – as deviser, performer and director
- rehearsal ideas and techniques
- alternative approaches to the same scene e.g. using different performance style or genre – as deviser, performer and director
- creating and applying design ideas e.g. for different historical contexts, different performance style, working in another genre.

Preparation for the Examination

Using the set text extract and stimulus item and considering the four briefs, the candidates have up to a 20 hour preparation period (approximately 10 weeks of lessons).

The preparation period is conducted with the teacher. Candidates and teachers are allowed to spend this time preparing for the examined element of the unit.

Teachers are permitted to conduct workshops, guide and advise the candidates, and make available as wide a range of resources and materials as they think appropriate. Decisions as to how resources might eventually be used are the responsibility of each candidate. Teachers may also have an input into the composition of groups to ensure all candidates have opportunity to tackle their preferred Brief.

During the unit candidates will continue to apply knowledge and skills gained in prior study of drama work as a Deviser, Designer, Director and Performer.

The four examination briefs use either the text extract and/or the stimulus as a starting point to:

Either

- Devise and perform their own drama;

or

- Perform a section of the text extract;

or

- Design for a production of the script extract;

or

- Devise a section of text.

---

During their work in the unit candidates will cover with their teacher the following:

(a) Preparation

- examine the cultural and historical context of the text extract/stimulus item
- determine the key focus for any drama
- select suitable genre(s) and performance styles.

(b) Exploration

- use improvisation to create drama
- take part in design workshop(s) – identifying ways in which some or all of lighting, sound, set, costume, mask, make-up and properties can enhance and support the developing drama
- create possible scenarios using both the text extract and stimulus item
- take on the function of Performer, Deviser, Designer or Director. It is expected that within this unit all candidates will engage in at least one task for each area, i.e. working as a Deviser, a Designer, a Performer and a Director.

By the end of the preparation period candidates should have chosen the brief they wish to respond to. Candidates who are responding to one of the Performer briefs as a group will have established those working groups, mediated by their teacher.

4 Schemes of Assessment

4.1 GCSE Scheme of Assessment

GCSE Drama J315

Unit A581: From Page to Stage

30% of the total GCSE marks

Candidates will be assessed and be marked on two aspects:

60 marks total – 40 marks performance, 20 marks working record

Working record recording what has been drawn from their preparation and exploration and applied to the rehearsal process and performance, plus their own original insights.

Performance of the selected extract(s) of the text

Internally assessed and postally moderated.

Set Task

Candidates can work individually, in a pair, or in a group of up to six, to create a performance of a selected section of text. The performance will last a maximum of 10 minutes for groups of 5-6, for smaller groups it should be less e.g. groups of 2-3, 6 minutes.

- Following the teacher-led workshops on Preparation and Exploration stages of the chosen text, candidates select a section(s) to be performed and consider any adaptations that may be necessary to accommodate the number in the group.
- Candidates must then individually review the selected text extract(s) in relation to their previous work on the text and consider;
  - the supporting material
  - themes
  - social, historical and cultural context
  - genre
  - potential performance styles
  - audience
  - performance space
  - design possibilities.

- Candidates complete section one of their working record, under direct supervision of the teacher (controlled conditions – up to 1 hour)
- Rehearsal: In the rehearsal stage of the process (outlined in section 3.1) candidates prepare a performance of the selected section(s) of the text. Candidates must apply all the Areas of Study and show in their working record that at least two of the roles of Performer, Director and Designer have been considered in relation to the text(s). Candidates have approximately 8 hours, under controlled conditions, to rehearse/create a performance and complete section two of their working record.
- Performance: Individually or in a group, candidates perform the text extract(s) to the teacher and other groups for assessment. These performances are recorded on chaptered DVD. Performance will last a maximum of 10 minutes for groups of 5-6 and less for smaller groups e.g. 6 minutes for groups of 2-3.
- Review: following the performances candidates complete section three of their working record, the final review, under direct supervision of the teacher. (Controlled conditions – up to 1 hour)

Evidence

Working record:

This aspect is marked out of 20 (see Appendix B for marking criteria)

The candidate working record is a succinct planning and reflection document; it should cover:

- What the script offers - the intention of playwright(s) and background to the script(s); this will be drawn from (a) Preparation work.
- How the candidates interpreted the selected extract(s) - the key Performance, Direction and Design ideas used, some of which may arise out of work done in (b) Exploration and (c) Rehearsal with the emphasis on the individual candidates' specific contribution.
- Review, a reflection and evaluation of the final performance, both the candidate's role(s), that of one other candidate and audience response must be included.

Evidence of how the relevant Areas of Study (AoS) were used in the work will be included in covering the three sections of the working record listed above e.g. section 1 AoS 2 & 5, section 2 AoS 1 & 6 section 3 AoS 3 plus any others specifically referenced.

The evidence in the candidate's working record will be in the form of either

- a) About 700 - 1200 words of continuous prose.

or

Between 8 and 12 sides A4 or equivalent as a 'compendium'. The 'compendium' will contain continuous writing, notes, diagrams, sketches, storyboards, scenarios, photographs, drawings, excerpts of dialogue, designs, character notes, views and ideas of self and others, as appropriate.

or

- b) Between 3 and 5 minutes of CD or DVD commentary with written notes introducing the context and content.

or

- c) A mixture of elements from the above.

Performance:

This aspect is marked out of 40 (see Appendix B for marking criteria).

In this unit the Performance will draw on all the Areas of Study with less emphasis on Improvisation (AoS 4).

The evidence will be in the form of a chaptered DVD recording of the final performance. At the beginning of each performance, each candidate should state his or her name and candidate number.

Performances must be planned so that all candidates are visible to the camera and identifiable throughout the performance.

Unit A582: Drama in the Making

30% of the total GCSE marks      Candidates will be assessed and be marked on two aspects:
60 marks total:
workshop presentation 40 marks      Working record drawing upon their preparation, exploration, working record 20 marks.      rehearsal and presentation

Workshop Presentation

Internally assessed and postally moderated.

Set Task

Candidates can work individually, in a pair, or in a group of up to six to deliver a workshop presentation. The presentation will last a maximum of 10 minutes for groups 5-6, for smaller groups there should be less e.g. groups of 2-3, 6 minutes.

- Following the teacher-led workshops on Preparation and Exploration stages of the chosen text, candidates individually set out in their working record the potential for the stimulus for creating a devised drama (controlled conditions – up to 1 hour).

• Rehearsal

Candidates must prepare for the following two elements for the workshop presentation.

- 1 A rehearsed improvised scene to illustrate how the devised drama communicates intent, applies the semiotics of theatre and generates the necessary stage directions for the drama to work on stage (all candidates have to be involved in one rehearsed improvisation).
- 2 Each candidate must be involved in a minimum of two other additional presentation items, which must also be rehearsed.

No candidate may use performance for all three presentation items.

These presentations will show an understanding of the Areas of Study and the practical application of the many ways a drama can be devised. Where the roles of Performer, Director and Designer are evidenced, this will be in the context of how they contributed to the devising process. These items can be presented individually, as a pair or as a group, as appropriate (controlled conditions 10 hours).

• Workshop Presentation:

The Workshop Presentation will be a collection of material, which has the potential to be developed into a full realisation. It does not need to be a complete, fully rehearsed performance.

The presentation must include a polished improvised scene(s).

The two other elements of the presentation could include:

- alternative approaches to the same scene e.g. using a different performance style or genre
- ideas for linking scenes
- a presentation on possible design ideas
- ideas for closure of the drama
- plot ideas; character ideas; directing ideas in form of a workshop plan
- role developed in an exploratory workshop.

All ideas should be as fully developed as possible in terms of how they would work as practical drama.

The ideas can be presented in a variety of ways e.g. enacted, lecture demonstration, DVD of a role created, design sheets, photographs, a power point, lighting demonstration, ground plan etc.

Teacher Assessment 2 - 4 hours

• Review

Following the Workshop Presentations candidates complete section three of the working record, a review of the presentation, including a review of one other group (controlled conditions up to 1 hour).

Evidence

Working record

This aspect is marked out of 20 (see Appendix B for marking criteria).

The candidate working record is a selective collection of ideas and can include those practically implemented and others considered but not implemented. It should cover:

- The intention of the drama with any relevant background information; this will be drawn from (a) Preparation work.
- Workable drama ideas that would engage an audience and support the original intention; this will be drawn from (b) Exploration and (c) Rehearsal, with emphasis on the individual candidates' involvement.
- A review of the potential of the ideas generated by their group, plus an evaluation of the potential of one other group of candidates (this to be taken from their role as audience for the other groups).

Evidence of how the relevant Areas of Study (AoS) were used will be included in the three sections of the working record.

The evidence in the candidate's working record will be in the form of either

a) About 700 - 1200 words of continuous prose.

or

b) Between 8 and 12 sides A4 or equivalent as a 'compendium'. As appropriate the 'compendium' will contain continuous writing, notes, diagrams, sketches, storyboards, scenarios, photographs, drawings, excerpts of dialogue, designs, character notes, views and ideas of self and others, as appropriate.

or

c) Between 3 and 5 minutes of CD or DVD commentary with written notes introducing the context and content.

or

d) A mixture of elements from the above.

Workshop Presentation

This aspect is marked out of 40, 20 for the improvised performance and 20 for the additional workshop presentation ideas (see Appendix B for marking criteria).

The evidence will be in the form of a chaptered DVD recording of the final presentation plus the candidate's working record.

At the beginning of each performance/presentation each candidate should state his/her name and candidate number.

Performances/Presentations must be planned so that all candidates are visible to the camera and identifiable throughout.

In Unit A582, the Workshop Presentation will draw on all the Areas of Study.

40% of the total GCSE marks

Practical Examination

Performance/Presentation

80 marks total:

Working Record

Brief: 50 marks

Working Record: 30 marks.

Externally assessed

The Practical Examination

The Practical Examination paper consists of four briefs deriving from a text extract and a stimulus item set by OCR. These briefs form the starting point for the creation of a performance or presentation

The examination has three parts:

- 1 Preparation and Exploration.
- 2 The 10 hour Examination.
- 3 The Performance or Presentation to the examiner.

Candidates can work individually, in a pair or in a group of up to six.

Preparation and Exploration

During the preparation period of up to ten weeks before the examination candidates should consider both the script extract and the stimulus item with their teacher.

This period allows for research, investigation of available resources, workshops and development of working groups.

By the end of this period candidates will have selected one of four briefs described below.

The 10 hour Examination

A ten hour supervised preparation/rehearsal period for the practical examination follows the teaching workshops outlined in section 3.4 and ten week preparation time.

The examination should be completed within a period no longer than 20 working days to allow timetable blocking.

Candidates work with their selected brief. The four briefs available for examination are:

- The Performer (devised) Brief

This requires candidates to devise and perform a drama. This is done either as a solo performance or as part of a group of between 2 – 6 candidates. The performance should represent 3 minutes of performance time per candidate, with no group performance lasting more than a maximum of 10 minutes.

- The Performer (text extract) Brief

This requires candidates to perform a section of the text extract. This can be done either as a solo performance or as part of a group of between 2 – 6 candidates. The performance should represent 3 minutes of performance time per candidate, with no group performance lasting more than a maximum of 10 minutes.

- The Deviser Brief

This requires the candidate to write an additional scene for the script extract or write a script that uses the stimulus item as its inspiration. The script will be set out accordingly to see the conventions of the script writing, with stage directions and any relevant staging notes. The script will need to be rounded off with suitable closure of the scene. It should be a full scene and will be between 6-12 sides A4.

- The Designer Brief

This requires the candidate to prepare designs for the text extract. The designs should cover any three of set; costume; lighting; stage properties and personal properties; make-up; or sound. Candidates must explain their overall design concept for the extract using the headings:

- Period it is set in
- Performance style
- Colour scheme
- Any social, cultural and political connection.

The candidate is to produce between 8 and 12 sides of A4 or equivalent as a 'compendium' of their design ideas.

The candidate will make a presentation to the examiner, no longer than 5 minutes in length, explaining and demonstrating their design ideas. This might include: mock-ups of properties; costumes; masks; demonstration of lighting states and/or sound cues; make-up designs (sketches or live models).

Performance or Presentation

The visiting examiner will visit the centre shortly after the completion of the 10 hour examination to mark the prepared Performances and Presentations.

The Working record.

Candidates must produce an individual working record which includes planning, exploration and evaluation. It should cover:

- The intention of the drama/devised script/designs with any relevant background information. (This will be completed before the 10 hours begins, with up to 1 hour being allowed for this task. This element will be read by the examiner prior to the performance/presentation.)
- The key elements and decisions that make the response to the chosen brief workable.
- How the six Areas of Study have been applied.
- The candidate's individual role and contribution to the chosen brief.
- A reflection and evaluation of their response to the chosen brief. The candidate's role(s) that of any others and the audience response must be included. (This will be completed in controlled conditions after the 10 hours, with up to 1 hour allowed for this task.)

(Note where candidates are working in groups, the first bullet above is a collective response, and does not form part of the controlled test and is not assessed).

The visiting examiner will take away the working record.

The evidence of the candidates' working record will be in the form of either

- about 600 words of continuous prose.

or

- between six and ten sides A4 (or equivalent) as a compendium containing continuous writing, (which may include notes or jottings) and any of the following as appropriate:

Scenarios	CD recordings	Diagrams
Storyboards	DVD recordings	Sketches
Writings

or

- between four and six minutes of CD or DVD commentary with some accompanying explanation in continuous writing which may include notes or jottings.

or

- a mixture of elements from the above.

---

Performance/Presentation

The evidence will be in the form of a chaptered DVD recording of the final performance/presentation.

At the beginning of each performance/presentation each candidate should state his/her name and candidate number.

Performances/presentations must be planned so that all candidates are visible to the camera and identifiable throughout the performance/presentation.

---

4.2 Entry Options

---

GCSE candidates must be entered for all three units.

Candidates must be entered for certification to claim their overall GCSE qualification grade. All candidates should be entered under the following certification code:

DRAFT

4.3 Tiers

---

This scheme of assessment is untiered, covering all of the ability range grades from A* to G. Candidates achieving less than the minimum mark for Grade G will be ungraded.

4.4 Assessment Availability

There are two examination series each year, in January and June.

In January 2010 onwards, GCSE units will be assessed. Unit A583 will only be available in the June series.

4.5 Assessment Objectives

Candidates are expected to demonstrate the following in the context of the content described:

AO1

---

- recall, select and communicate their knowledge and understanding of drama to generate, explore and develop ideas;

AO2

---

- apply practical skills to communicate in performance;

AO3

---

- analyse and evaluate their own work and that of others using appropriate terminology.

AO weightings – GCSE

The relationship between the components and the assessment objectives of the scheme of assessment is shown in the following grid.

Unit	% of GCSE			Total
	AO1	AO2	AO3
Unit A581: From Page to Stage	10	10	10	30%
Unit A582: Drama in the Making	10	10	10	30%
Unit A583: From Concept to Creation	10	25	5	40%
	30%	45%	25%	100%

4.6 Quality of Written Communication

Quality of written communication is assessed in all units.

Candidates are expected to:

- ensure that text is legible and that spelling, punctuation and grammar are accurate so that meaning is clear;
- present information in a form that suits its purpose;
- use a suitable structure and style of writing.

5 Controlled Assessment

5.1 The controlled assessment units

All units except Unit A583 have been designed to be internally assessed, applying the principles of controlled assessment. Controls are set within the assessments so that validity and reliability are ensured and the assessors can confidently authenticate the Candidates' work. These controls take a variety of forms in each of the stages of the assessment process: task setting, task taking and task marking. Within each of these three stages there are different levels of control. This section sets out the overall OCR approach, but the Scheme of Assessment sections of the units include more detail and any specific requirements.

5.2 Task setting

5.2.1 The OCR approach

---

OCR will assume a limited level of control in relation to the setting of tasks. The criteria and parameters for setting the task are set by OCR. The structure of the tasks have been designed to meet the full assessment requirements of the unit.

Candidates will need to take part in a planned learning programme that covers the knowledge and skills required for the unit. They will also complete the evidence requirements of the assessment tasks. They will follow the process of:

- Preparation
- Exploration
- Rehearsal
- Performance
- Review

5.2.2 Using controlled assessment tasks

The Rehearsal, Performance and Review stages of the process will constitute the controlled assessment tasks. Centres are permitted to choose the text/stimulus material for the tasks and they can be adapted so that they allow the usage of local resources available to any centre. These tasks may also be set within overarching scenarios and briefs more relevant to centres' own environment and targeted at their particular cohorts of Candidates.

Controlled assessment tasks may be adapted by centres on the proviso that they do not put at risk the opportunity for candidates to meet the Assessment Criteria, including the chance to gain marks at the highest level.

It is not permitted to use the same text extracts or stimuli for the assessment as used for practice or background material. Centres should devise their own practice material using the OCR specimen controlled assessment task as guidance.

5.3 Task taking

5.3.1 The OCR approach

---

For GCSE in Drama OCR will assume a medium level of control. The task taking parameters will be defined as outlined below.

5.3.2 Definitions of the controls

(a) Authenticity control: Candidates will complete all work for assessment under direct teacher supervision except as outlined below. For GCSE in Drama, the Rehearsal, Performance and Review stages of the process which forms the assessment would be under direct teacher supervision. The teacher must be able to authenticate the work and insist on acknowledgement and referencing of any sources used.

(b) Feedback control: Feedback to Candidates will be encouraged but tightly defined. Within GCSE in Drama OCR expects teachers to supervise and guide candidates who are undertaking work which is internally assessed. The degree of teacher guidance in candidates' work will vary according to the kinds of work being undertaken. It should be remembered, however, that candidates are required to reach their own judgements and conclusions. When supervising tasks, teachers are expected to:

- exercise continuing supervision of work in order to monitor progress and to prevent plagiarism
- exercise continuing supervision of practical work to ensure essential compliance with Health and Safety requirements
- ensure that the work is completed in accordance with the specification requirements and can be assessed in accordance with the specified marking criteria and procedures

- keep a record of feedback given to candidates.

(c) Time control: The time limit available to candidates to complete the assessment task is specified within each unit. Tasks will be set within a broader learning programme which will allow the acquisition of subject specific knowledge and the development of appropriate practical skills.

Controlled assessed work should be completed within the time limit and supervised and marked by the teacher. Some of the work e.g. the Preparation and Exploration phases of the process may be undertaken outside the centre.

The background of the play and intent of the playwright (Unit A581) and the background information for the Stimulus (Unit A582) which forms the first section of the working record can be completed before the commencement of the set 10 hours of rehearsal of the performance/workshop presentation.

All other elements of rehearsal, work on section two of the working record and the performance (Unit A581) or workshop presentation (A582) are created and contained within the set hours of the teacher supervised controlled assessment.

The Review, the final reflection and evaluation of the performance (Unit A581) or workshop presentation (A582), which forms the third section of the working record, can be undertaken after the completion of the performance/workshop presentation.

With all internally assessed work, the teacher must be satisfied that the work submitted for assessment is the candidate's own work and be able to authenticate it using the specified procedure.

(d) Collaboration control: Candidates must complete and/or evidence all work individually. With reference to collaboration control, all assessment evidence will be provided by the individual candidate. However, where candidates are working in groups it is vital to be able to identify the individual contribution in their working record. Candidates must provide an individual working record.

(e) Resource control: Access to resources will be limited to those appropriate to the task and as required by the unit. Candidates will need to be provided with the most appropriate materials and equipment to allow them full access to the marking criteria. For most units basic drama classroom/studio equipment will be adequate.

5.3.3 Quality assuring the controls

It is the responsibility of the Head of Centre to ensure that the controls set out in the specification and the individual units are imposed.

5.3.4 Completing the tasks

Candidates should be allowed sufficient time to complete all of the tasks. It is suggested that evidence is produced in several sessions, each focussing on a specific task within the overall task or scenario.

Each candidate must produce individual and authentic evidence for each of the tasks. It is particularly important that candidates working in groups, should still produce individual evidence of their contribution to ongoing group work and any final realisation or outcome.

Centre staff may give support and guidance to candidates. This support and guidance should focus on checking that candidates understand what is expected of them. It is not acceptable for centre staff to provide model responses or to work through responses in detail.

Candidates must be guided on the use of information from other sources to ensure that confidentiality and intellectual property rights are maintained at all times. It is essential that any material directly used from a source is appropriately and rigorously referenced.

5.3.5 Presentation of work

Candidates must observe certain procedures in the production of controlled assessments.

- Any copied material must be suitably acknowledged.
- Quotations must be clearly marked and a reference provided wherever possible.
- Work submitted for moderation must be marked with the:

centre number centre name candidate number candidate name
specification code and title unit title.

Work submitted on paper for moderation or marking must be secured by treasury tags or in notebook form.

Work submitted in digital format (CD/DVD) must be in a chaptered file structure with each file clearly named with the unit code, centre number and candidate number.

5.4 Task marking

5.4.1 The OCR approach

---

For GCSE in Drama OCR will assume a medium level of control in relation to the marking of tasks. All controlled assessed units will be marked by the centre assessor(s) using awarding body marking grids and guidance and moderated by the OCR appointed moderator. For this GCSE in Drama external moderation will take the form of postal moderation.

5.4.2 Applying the assessment criteria

The starting point for marking the tasks is the Marking Criteria for each unit. These contain levels of criteria for the skills, knowledge and understanding that the candidate is required to demonstrate. OCR will provide exemplification through real or simulated candidate work which will help to clarify the level of achievement the assessors should be looking for when awarding marks.

5.4.3 Use of 'best fit' approach to marking grids

The assessment task(s) for each unit should be marked by the teacher according to the given marking criteria within the relevant unit using a 'best fit' approach. For each of the assessment objectives/criteria, the band, that most closely describes the quality of the work being marked, should be selected.

Marking should be positive, rewarding achievement rather than penalising failure or omissions. The award of marks must be directly related to the marking criteria.

Teachers use their professional judgement in selecting the descriptors that best describes the work of the candidate.

To select the most appropriate mark, teachers should use the following guidance:

- Where the candidate's work meets all of the statements in a band, and no others in a higher band, the highest mark should be awarded in that band.
- Where the candidate's work meets all of the statements in the lower of the two adjacent bands and one of the statements in the higher band, the lowest mark in the highest band should be awarded.
- Where the candidate's work meets all of the statements in the lower of the two adjacent band and some of the statements in the higher band, an appropriate mark in the highest band should be awarded.
- Where the candidate's work meets statements across three or more bands then professional judgement should be used to attain the best fit, which is likely to be somewhere in the middle band.

Centres should use the full range of marks available to them; centres must award full marks in any band for work which fully meets that descriptor. This is work which is 'the best one could expect from candidates working at that level'.

Only one mark per assessment objective/criteria will be entered. The final mark for the candidate for each unit is out of a total of 60 and is found by totalling the marks for each of the marking objective/criteria.

5.4.4 Authentication

Teachers/course tutors must be confident that the work they mark is the candidate's own. This does not mean that a candidate must be supervised throughout the completion of all work but the teacher/course tutor must exercise sufficient supervision, or introduce sufficient checks, to be in a position to judge the authenticity of the candidate's work.

Wherever possible, the teacher/course tutor should discuss work-in-progress with candidates. This will not only ensure that work is underway in a planned and timely manner but will also provide opportunities for internal assessors to check authenticity of the work and provide general feedback.

Candidates must not plagiarise. Plagiarism is the submission of another's work as one's own and/or failure to acknowledge the source correctly. Plagiarism is considered to be malpractice and could lead to the candidate being disqualified. Plagiarism sometimes occurs innocently when candidates are unaware of the need to reference or acknowledge their sources. It is therefore important that centres ensure that candidates understand that the work they submit must be their own and that they understand the meaning of plagiarism and what penalties may be applied. Candidates may refer to research, quotations or evidence but they must list their sources. The rewards from acknowledging sources, and the credit they will gain from doing so, should be emphasised to candidates as well as the potential risks of failing to acknowledge such material. Please note: Centres must confirm to OCR that the evidence produced by candidates is authentic. It is a requirement of the QCA Common Criteria for all Qualifications that proof of authentication is received.

5.4.5 Internal standardisation

It is important that all internal assessors, working in the same subject area, work to common standards. Centres must ensure that the internal standardisation of marks across assessors and teaching groups takes place using an appropriate procedure.

This can be done in a number of ways. In the first year, reference material and OCR training meetings will provide a basis for Centres' own standardisation. In subsequent years, this, or Centres' own archive material, may be used. Centres are advised to hold preliminary meetings of staff involved to compare standards through cross-marking a small sample of work. After most marking has been completed, a further meeting at which work is exchanged and discussed will enable final adjustments to be made.

5.4.6 Moderation

All work for Unit A581 and Unit A582 is marked by the teacher and internally standardised by the centre. Marks are then submitted, after which moderation takes place in accordance with OCR procedures: refer to the OCR website for submission dates of the marks to OCR. The purpose of moderation is to ensure that the standard of the award of marks for work is the same for each centre and that each teacher has applied the standards appropriately across the range of candidates within the centre.

The sample of work which is presented to the Moderator for moderation must show how the marks have been awarded in relation to the marking criteria defined in Appendix B.

Each candidate's working record should have a cover sheet attached to it with a summary of the marks awarded for each task.

A chaptered DVD recording of the final presentations must be sent to the Moderator.

At the beginning of each performance/presentation each candidate should state his/her name and candidate number clearly.

Performances/presentations must be planned so that all candidates are visible to the camera and identifiable throughout the performance/presentation.

5.4.7 Minimum Requirement for Controlled Assessment

There should be clear evidence that work has been attempted and some work produced.

If a candidate submits no work for an internally assessed component, then the candidate should be indicated as being absent from that component on the mark sheets submitted to OCR. If a candidate completes any work at all for an internally assessed component, then the work should be assessed according to the internal assessment objectives and marking instructions and the appropriate mark awarded, which may be zero.

DRAFT

6 Technical Information

6.1 Making Unit Entries

Please note that centres must be registered with OCR in order to make any entries, including estimated entries. It is recommended that centres apply to OCR to become a registered centre well in advance of making their first entries. Centres must have made an entry for a unit in order for OCR to supply the appropriate forms and/or moderator details for controlled assessments.

It is essential that unit entry codes are quoted in all correspondence with OCR.

Unit Entry Code	Component code	Submission method	Unit titles
Unit A581		Postal moderation	From page to stage
Unit A582		Postal moderation	Drama in the making
Unit A583		Examined unit	From concept to creation

6.2 Terminal Rules

Candidates must take at least 40% of the assessment in the same series they enter for the full course qualification certification.

Centres could fulfil this requirement by entering candidates for Unit A583 in the series of certification, having entered candidates for the other units the previous series/year. If unit A583 was taken in a series prior to certification, and not re-sat, then both units A581 and A582 would have to be taken in the same series as certification as they are only weighted at 30% each. Centres may enter in a linear fashion by entering all units in the final series of certification.

6.3 Unit and Qualification Re-sits

GCSE Candidates may re-sit each unit once before entering for certification for a GCSE .

Candidates may enter for the qualifications an unlimited number of times.

6.4 Making Qualification Entries

Candidates must enter for qualification certification separately from unit assessment(s). If a certification entry is not made, no overall grade can be awarded.

Candidates may enter for:

- GCSE certification (entry code J315).

A candidate who has completed all the units required for the qualification must enter for certification in the same examination series in which the terminal rules are satisfied.

GCSE certification is available from June 2010.

6.5 Grading

GCSE results are awarded on the scale A*- G. Units are awarded a*- g. Grades are awarded on certificates. However, results for candidates who fail to achieve the minimum grade (G or g) will be recorded as unclassified (U or u) and this is not certificated.

GCSE is a unitised scheme. Candidates can take units across several different series provided the terminal rules are satisfied. They can also re-sit units. When working out candidates' overall grades OCR needs to be able to compare performance on the same unit in different series when different grade boundaries have been set, and between different units. OCR uses a Uniform Mark Scale to enable this to be done.

A candidate's uniform mark for each unit is calculated from the candidate's raw marks on that unit. The raw mark boundary marks are converted to the equivalent uniform mark boundary. Marks between grade boundaries are converted on a pro rata basis.

When unit results are issued, the candidate's unit grade and uniform mark are given. The uniform mark is shown out of the maximum uniform mark for the unit e.g. 41/60.

The specification is graded on a Uniform Mark Scale. The uniform mark thresholds for each of the assessments are shown below:

(GCSE) Unit Weighting	Maximum Unit Uniform Mark	Unit Grade								U
		a*	a	b	c	d	e	f	g

GCSE	180	160	140	120	100	80	60	40	0

Awarding Grades

The practical examination will have a total weighting of 40% and controlled assessment a weighting of 60%.

A candidate's mark for each paper will be combined with the uniform for the controlled assessment to give a total uniform mark for the specification. The candidate's grade will be determined by the total uniform mark.

6.6 Results Enquiries and Appeals

Under certain circumstances, a centre may wish to query the grade available to one or more candidates or to submit an appeal against an outcome of such an enquiry. Enquiries about unit results must be made immediately following the series in which the relevant unit was taken.

For procedures relating to enquires on results and appeals, centres should consult the Administrative Guide for General Qualifications and the document Enquiries about Results and Appeals – Information and Guidance for Centres produced by the Joint Council. Copies of the most recent editions of these papers can be obtained from the OCR website.

Centres should be aware that candidates who enter for more than one GCSE qualification with the same classification code will have only one grade (the highest) counted for the purpose of the School and College Achievement and Attainment Tables.

6.7 Shelf Life of Units

Individual unit results, prior to certification of the qualification, have a shelf-life limited only by that of the qualification.

6.8 Guided Learning Hours

GCSE Drama requires 120 -140 guided learning hours in total.

6.9 Code of Practice/ Common Criteria Requirements/ Subject Criteria

These specifications comply in all respects with the current GCSE, GCE and AEA Code of Practice as available from the QCA website, The Statutory Regulation of External Qualifications 2004 and the subject criteria for GCSE Drama.

6.10 Prohibited Qualifications and Classification Code

Candidates who enter for the OCR GCSE specifications may not also enter for any other GCSE specification with the certification title Drama in the same examination series.

Every specification is assigned to a national classification code indicating the subject area to which it belongs.

The classification code for this specification is 5210

Centres should be aware that candidates who enter for more than one GCSE qualification with the same classification code will have only one grade (the highest) counted for the purpose of the School and College Achievement and Attainment Tables.

6.11 Disability and Discrimination Act Information Relating to this Specification

GCSEs often require assessment of a broad range of competences. This is because they are general qualifications and, as such, prepare candidates for a wide range of occupations and higher level courses.

The revised GCSE qualifications and subject criteria were reviewed to identify whether any of the competences required by the subject presented a potential barrier to any disabled candidates. If this was the case, the situation was reviewed again to ensure that such competences were included only where essential to the subject. The findings of this process were discussed with disability groups and with disabled people.

Reasonable adjustments are made for disabled candidates in order to enable them to access the assessments and to demonstrate what they know and can do. For this reason, very few candidates will have a complete barrier to the assessment. Information on reasonable adjustments is found in Regulations and Guidance Relating to Candidates who are Eligible for Adjustments in Examinations produced by the Joint Council www.jcq.org.uk.

Candidates who are unable to access part of the assessment, even after exploring all possibilities through reasonable adjustments, may still be able to receive an award based on the parts of the assessment they have taken.

6.12 Arrangements for Candidates with Particular Requirements

Candidates who are not disabled under the terms of the DDA may be eligible for access arrangements to enable them to demonstrate what they know and can do. Candidates who have been fully prepared for the assessment but who are ill at the time of the examination, or are too ill to take part of the assessment, may be eligible for special consideration. Centres should consult the Regulations and Guidance Relating to Candidates who are Eligible for Adjustments in Examinations produced by the Joint Council.

7 Other Specification Issues

7.1 Overlap with other Qualifications

There is no significant overlap between the content of these specifications and those for other GCSE qualifications.

7.2 Progression from these Qualifications

GCSE qualifications are general qualifications which enable candidates to progress either directly to employment, or to proceed to further qualifications.

Progression to further study from GCSE will depend upon the number and nature of the grades achieved. Broadly, candidates who are awarded mainly Grades D to G at GCSE could either strengthen their base through further study of qualifications at Level 1 within the National Qualifications Framework or could proceed to Level 2. Candidates who are awarded mainly Grades A* to C at GCSE would be well prepared for study at Level 3 within the National Qualifications Framework.

7.3 Spiritual, Moral, Ethical, Social, Legislative, Economic and Cultural Issues

These specifications offer opportunities which can contribute to an understanding of these issues. The history of Drama can be traced to its place in religion or the church and its links with the very nature of the survival of communities, life or death issues. Contemporary or historical issues can be explored through the drama, and through role-play and characterisation, and the motivation of individuals explored within situations of conflict. These aspects are addressed through Areas of Study 1 (Character and Context), 3 (Audience) and 5 (Genre, Performance Style and Convention).

7.4 Sustainable Development, Health and Safety Considerations and European Developments, consistent with international agreements

These specifications support these issues, consistent with current EU agreements:

Issues - based drama will often deal with subjects that relate to personal safety and health. For example: bullying, drugs, alcohol and substance abuse; environmental issues such as green issues and the impact of society upon its own environment; historical issues of health or environment – the latter represented in texts, for example, the way the plague is dealt with in The Roses of Eyam.

There are also implicit health and safety issues in the rules for using equipment, especially lights and sound, the rules needed for a safe fit up for a performance and safety issues related to specific performance skill, for example, in physical theatre.

European examples should be used where appropriate in the delivery of the subject content. Relevant European legislation is identified within the specification where applicable.

7.5 Avoidance of Bias

OCR has taken great care in preparation of these specifications and assessment materials to avoid bias of any kind.

7.6 Language

These specifications and associated assessment materials are in English only.

7.7 Key Skills

This specification provides opportunities for the development of the Key Skills of Communication, Application of Number, Information Technology, Working with Others, Improving Own Learning and Performance and Problem Solving at Levels 1 and/or 2. However, the extent to which this evidence fulfils the Key Skills criteria at these levels will be totally dependent on the style of teaching and learning adopted for each unit.

The following table indicates where opportunities may exist for at least some coverage of the various Key Skills criteria at Levels 1 and/or 2 for each unit.

Unit	C		AoN		IT		WwO		IoLP		PS
	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2	1	2
A581	✓	✓			✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
A582	✓	✓			✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
A583	✓	✓			✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓

Detailed opportunities for generating Key Skills evidence through this specification are posted on the OCR website (www.ocr.org.uk). A summary document for Key Skills Coordinators showing ways in which opportunities for Key Skills arise within GCSE courses has been published.

7.8 ICT

In order to play a full part in modern society, candidates need to be confident and effective users of ICT. Where appropriate, candidates should be given opportunities to use ICT for example to research background information, create lighting designs, add projections (including PowerPoint) and DVD clips to Performances and Presentations. ICT skills could also be used for creating the working record.

7.9 Citizenship

Since September 2002, the National Curriculum for England at Key Stage 4 has included a mandatory programme of study for Citizenship. Parts of the Citizenship Programme of Study may be explored through various stimuli and texts used in this specification.

Candidates may cover aspects of:

- social and moral responsibility, when using issues or newspaper or magazine articles as a starting point.
- political literacy, in the use of issue based themes.
- roles of significant persons or movements in the society when using historical contexts.
- cultural identity and diversity, when using a variety of scripts and stimuli from different playwrights and practitioners.

Appendix A: Grade Descriptions

Grade descriptions are provided to give a general indication of the standards of achievement likely to have been shown by candidates awarded particular grades. The descriptions must be interpreted in relation to the content in the specification; they are not designed to define that content. The grade awarded will depend in practice upon the extent to which the candidate has met the assessment objectives overall. Shortcomings in some aspects of the assessment may be balanced by better performance in others.

The grade descriptors have been produced by the regulatory authorities in collaboration with the awarding bodies.

Grade F

Candidates recall, select and communicate basic knowledge and understanding of plays and other types of drama. They have a superficial awareness of relationships between texts and dramatic styles, and of social context and genre.

They use a limited range of practical skills, which they sometimes apply appropriately to demonstrate ideas in drama and in working with others.

They provide a basic critical response at a simplistic and generalised level to evaluate work in progress and performance, and of their own contribution and that of others.

Grade C

Candidates recall, select and communicate sound knowledge and understanding of plays and other types of drama. They show awareness of the relationships between texts and dramatic styles, and of social context and genre.

They demonstrate secure practical skills, which they apply appropriately to communicate their ideas. They work constructively with others.

They use evaluative and reflective skills appropriately to show critical awareness of work in progress and performance, and of their own contribution and that of others. Using appropriate terminology, they support their views with relevant reasons, demonstrating the ability to take work forward.

Grade A

Candidates recall, select and communicate detailed knowledge and thorough understanding of plays and other types of drama. They demonstrate a thorough awareness of the relationships between texts and dramatic styles, and of social context and genre, to generate, explore and develop their ideas.

They apply and adapt effectively an extensive range of practical skills, which they execute creatively to communicate their ideas. They work very productively with others.

They have well-developed evaluative and reflective skills. They show critical awareness of work in progress and performance, and of their own contribution and that of others. They provide, by reasoned argument, full justifications, demonstrating insight and sensitivity in developing practical work. They understand and use terminology accurately and appropriately.

Appendix B: Marking Criteria for Controlled Test Unit A582: Drama in the Making

This unit is marked out of 60 marks as follows:

Workshop Presentation (AO1 and AO2) 40 marks in total.

- Improvised performance 20 marks
- Additional presentation ideas 20 marks

Working record (AO3) 20 marks

Assessment Objectives AO1, AO2 and AO3 are assessed in this unit in equal proportions. The following criteria are designed as levels of response criteria and teachers should use a best-fit approach. In this unit we are assessing working process as well as outcomes. Therefore the bullet points combine elements of assessment objectives to reflect this. All these objectives can be demonstrated simultaneously and are co-dependent and are therefore best assessed holistically.
